Description

Atomex Mach3 Air Assisted Airless Spray Gun with 309 Flat Tip

The Atomex Mach3 air assisted airless spray guns are made in Italy to the highest quality with many beneficial features that will prove the durability day after day. Air assisted airless spray guns deliver a superior spray finish at much lower atomizing pressures which results in less over spray, less paint wastage and high quality finish.

The Atomex Mach3 air assisted airless spray gun can be used with almost any airless sprayer but should not be operated at pressures above 2900psi. You will need to supply compressed air to the gun and the air compressor size should be at least 3cfm.

Air assisted airless spray guns are designed for fine finishing applications such as applying clear lacquer and solid finishes in the furniture industry but are also widely used by painting contractors that require high finishes for doors, door jambs, skirting boards and architraves in domestic and commercial painting applications.

Take your spray finishes to the next level with the Atomex Mach3 Air Assisted Airless Spray Gun.
