Short Description

Atomex narrow band stainless steel worm drive hose clamps are suitable for a wide variety of applications including compressed air hose, fluid hose and industrial hoses.

Description

Worm drive hose clamps are used in many industries from automotive, heavy equipment, mining right through to aerospace applications. Atomex slotted stainless steel hose clamps have a narrow band and are less bulky reducing the chance of the hose clamp snagging.

Atomex slotted stainless steel hose clamps are commonly used for fastening air hose to air hose couplings, worm drive hose clamps can be tightened if air leaks and can also be removed and re-used.

Atomex Hose Clamps are available in the following sizes –

- 08-12mm Atomex SS Hose Clamp Part No. AX/12-910-100
