Short Description

Wagner 0394158 AC4600 AirCoat Gun with Green Air Cap is designed for spraying both solvent based & water based materials. Reduce over-spray and improve finish quality with Wagner's next generation air assisted airless spray gun.

Description

The combination of an innovative tip and three different air caps makes the Wagner AirCoat gun range a high grade all round system for the application of all water based and solvent based lacquers (such as acrylic, 2 component, lacquer, stains and varnishes). The perfect combination to help achieve a superior finish with reduced overspray and higher transfer efficiency.

Wagner AC4600 AirCoat Features –

- High coating speed
- Uniform application of material
- Soft run out at edges
- Less overspray than with airless or airspray products
- Reduced working pressure of 870 PSI

For optimum adjustment to water or solvent based materials, you can choose between three air caps –

- Blue (Part No. 0394911) Water based materials
- Red (Part No. 0394910) Solvent based materials
- Green (Part No. 0394912) Both water & solvent based materials

Versatile in use - for top quality finishing work in the workshop.

AC 4600 Professional

For optimum adjustment to water or solvent based materials, you can choose between three air caps:

- blue: for water-based materials
- red: for solvent-based materials
- green: for water-based and solvent-based materials. Its low air consumption saves energy and costs and takes the pressure off the environment.

The filter housing can be opened for cleaning or replacing a filter without tools.

For quick cleaning when the nozzle is blocked: simply insert the nozzle the other way round and flush.

High productivity thanks to the stepless adjustment of air and jet width.

These free-moving swivel-connectors ensure operator comfort.

3+2 WAGNER Professional

Please note – This gun does not include a Wagner AirCoat Spray Tip.
